DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Saka et al., EP 747183 or Bugg U.S. patent No. 4,044,172 in view of Silenius et al., WO 94/22647.

Both Saka et al., and Bugg teaches the application of a water-resistant coating (see column 1, lines 24-25 and column 2, line 60 through column 3, lines 15 of Bugg and the abstract and page 7 of Saka et al.) onto wood surfaces, that coating including a siloxane and alkyl polymer mixture.

Silenius et al., teach the known and expected efficacy of complexing agents in wood preservative composition to prevent leaching of such composition from the treated surface, as well as their tendency to wash from the wood intended for treatment (see page 2, lines 21-30).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to bind the complexing agents of Silenius et al., with the binders of either Saka et al., or Bugg because such inclusion would prevent later leaching of the treating composition from the wood and would maintain the protective activity thereof.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 1/8/2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that one of ordinary skill in the art would not combine Bugg and Silenius because Bugg is a "surface treatment", while Silenius teaches a preference for "deeper than superficial" treatment, however, the Examiner would disagree and note that Silenius refers to deeper treatment to essentially overload the wood with complexing agent to compensate for the amount that will normally be washed away (see page 2, lines 21-30). Combining the complexing agent of Silenius with the binders of either Bugg or Saka et al, would eliminate the need to overload the wood, because they would function to prevent washing away of the complexing agent, and would therefore not be exclusive of each other, but expectedly synergistic.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
